

COMIC STRIP

It's important for us to look after our water and use it wisely, after all we can only use 1% of all of the water on the planet!

Create a comic strip story on saving water when brushing your teeth. The main message should be that the tap should be turned off otherwise 12 litres of water will be wasted every time!

Comic strips don't usually have many words so try and tell your story through pictures and colour.

The bottom row has two boxes of equal size, each wider than the boxes in the rows above, and they are positioned below the first two boxes of the middle row.
